PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, by the Rey, W. LOBSCHEID, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

HOR scope and practical service this Work which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the moid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are | tf647] (Late J. B. Morris, News Agent.) [Ap] here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typo graphy displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast conomy of space, achieving a clearness nut previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacout spaces which have beretofore characterized Chinese publications. The scope of the work is so great, and its utilitarian purposes so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who . Carriages and Horses sold and bought understanda English to communicate effectively on Commission. with natives who understand nothing but Chi. | Farriery, by an experienced European. nese. In this respect the work will be found i indispensable to all Europeans residing in a stock of London-made being always on hand. Chins, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully, with which very few in deed of them are perfectly acquainted. parties resident in Hugland und interested i China it cannot but be invaluable occasionally

It comprises upwards of two thousand large quarto pages. Price in London, £7 4s.; in Hongkong, $30.: TRUBNER & Co., 80. PATERNOSTER ROW: W. H. BELL.
